

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Please join SDBC on Sunday, March 27th, as we ride to support the people of Ukraine. The route will start at UCC and be a simple up the coast and back. Details will be coming today or tomorrow. We will be associating the ride with a charity which has been recommended by the San Diego and LA Ukrainian community.

We will gather at UCC at 8am and roll close to 8:30.... we may have some members of the SD Ukrainian community there to say a few words. PLEASE spread the word - we want this to be inclusive of ALL bike riders - not just SDBC. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Cheers,
Vali Holroyd

Women's History Month

At the Tokyo Olympics this past summer Jennifer Valente became Americas first Women's Gold Medal Track Cyclist and it all started for her at the San Diego Velodrome. A San Diego native she started racing track as a junior and was quickly winning races and bringing home Championship trophies.

Her wiki Page lists the many championship races she has won:

Her home town San Diego Union gives a great review of her Gold Medal Olympic victory:

SDBC Member Eric Gillman is passionate about meeting the medical needs of the people of Haiti. After the catastrophic 7.0 earthquake of 2010, he made multiple trips to Haiti to work alongside local Haitians to build the Angel Wings International medical clinic in the remote coastal town of Jacmel. To raise awareness and donations to expand the clinic's medical services, he is riding from Miami to San Diego and hosting speaking events along the way. His trip starts March 17.
